- Back to school help project:

Adventure Kids Curacao Foundation also collects and distributes school backpacks, uniforms, shoes, and school materials for underprivileged and undocumented kids on the island. This is for them to feel motivated to finish their education and reach their maximum potential without worrying that they don't have uniforms, shoes, or backpacks to go to school with.

This project has been going on for 6 years in a row and usually helps around 30 to 40 kids per project.

- Working together towards better education project:

Another project Adventure Kids Curacao Foundation has is a collaboration with a local school in Bonaire, where innovative teaching and learner engagement methods are accumulated to be disseminated among schools on the island. This helps the schools a lot by reducing printing costs for books that the children need, however, their families are not able to provide for them. This project started with Math books shared with 5 public schools in Curacao.
